“ Grand Aunt ""Dot"" was always one of my favorites. A week long visit with my grandparents to her and Robert's home in Atlanta with my older sister when I was only five is still one of my fondest early memories.

Through many years since then that affection has never changed. There were other visits, both in Atlanta and after they moved to Decatur, where other fond memories were made. She was the last of her siblings - Grady, Herman, James, Flora, and Jo - to pass from this life to the next. She'll be missed by those whose lives she touched with her beaming smile and infectious laughter. She will still bring a smile to our face when we think of her in the future. Bobby and Brenda, you and your families will be in our thoughts and prayers in the days ahead. May God comfort you in your time of mourning.
