“ I met Jennifer when she was 16 working at Children's Palace in Hoover, Alabama. She was kind of shy and cautious of everyone including her new surroundings. When I finally got her to talk to me (yes, I was determined) we were inseparable. She had the wholesome next girl look and I would tell her she needed to be modeling on Teen Vouge Magazine instead of me teaching her retail sales. She would just smile and laugh it off all the while telling me I was crazy. Over the years we came and went out of one another's life, getting too caught up in our own lives, distance, or other things. As I can only speak for myself now, her not having the precious time to speak a rebuttal, I Love and miss you so very much. I felt like we had a sister kind of love. We argued, loved, had petty disagreearegreements, loved, supported one another, I was going here and she was going there. I can't count the times we lost and found one another but never stopped caring for the other along the way. Jen, you'll always be in my thoughts as well as your family in my prayers. You will forever and day be in my heart. ❤️ LGW

“ Jennifer was Jennifer every time you saw her! First and foremost She Loved her Family! That was a given! Then if she was your friend , You had a friend for life!! My kids stayed at her house and hers at mine! We went on vacation to the Beach and to the Smoky Mt. She was always concerned about her kids and my too!! She was always worried about her kids and Grandchildren and she looked Happy the last time I ran into her ! Praying for the Family and will remember her with a smile!!

“ I love you Jennifer. I have no words to express how I feel right now. I was supposed to go before you or you said we would go together. I miss you so much. Part of me died when you did and I'll never get that back. ☐☐😭😭

“ Jennifer was my first employer as well as a dear friend at her childcare center “Gingerbread Land” back in 1993 when our family moved here from Louisiana. I always could count on her to support me and be there for anything, she is definitely the reason I succeeded in my career as a teacher, encouraging me to earn my GED and later college at the age of 43. I tribute my career to my friend for pushing me to success. I loved her dearly and remained friends for the past 30 years. I am truly heartbroken I pray for her family may God bring them comfort and healing. Jennifer was a special soul and will be missed.

*Great friend !!! I worked side by side with Jennifer, watched Micheal and Andrea as they grew, then came dear Lauren. Jennifer and I shopped for baby items. The nursery was beautiful ! I worked at Gingerbread land/kids central.
She and I worked day after day,decorating Kids Central. !!!
We recently have been crying and laughing together. Jennifer loved her family deeply. My prayers are with her children and grandchildren in which Jennifer spoke often of.*

Miss Jennifer---What a special person!! I've only known her for 12 1/2 years since my grandson Garrett spent his time at Kids Central and now his younger brother for the last 7 years. She not only had her three children but she has also raised hundreds of others and loved them everyone and encouraged them each with a hug and loving words and taught her staff the same. I will miss seeing your smiling face when I pick up Braxton when you would drop in. Fly high my friend!! Thoughts and prayers. Jeannie Plemons
