“ Unfortunatley, I wasn't able to see you much before you past but I finally found this so I can write you something. I love you, a lot. It still seems unreal that you've past and it's been two years already. It's still not just amps its 'Granny and Amps', it's never ""I'm gonna call amps."" It's always ""I'm gonna call granny and amps"" because regardless of you being gone or not you're still there to me. That is still also your house and I wont accept otherwise because of the simple fact that where I've always known you to be. You lived a good, long life but your health caught up to you. We may just have our memories now but you'll always be in our hearts. I'll see you one day, I hope you're having fun in the ""Texas clouds."" I love you, Granny.
