“ It is hard to lose a brother. Now we have lost both of them. Reggie was the baby brother and I was responsible for caring for him during a time when Mama Jane was working evenings. I guess I didn't spank him enough, but I loved that little scoundrel. I'm glad he is at rest now.

I will always remember a little redheaded, round faced bundle of mischief. I am praying for your comfort, cousins.

We are Reggie's neighbors, and we really liked him. He was so good to just as he was kind to everyone he else. He helped us with our cows while my husband was recovering from surgery. We couldn't have handpicked a better neighbor! We will so miss him. Thoughts and prayers for his family.
