“ My brother Steve is the only person who knew me all my life. The memories we share of growing up with loving parents are ours alone. He and I did not agree on everything but I am truly blessed to have always, always known that we loved each other deeply. That is such a gift. How I will miss him. He was a unique gift from God to all of this world.

Unique is a perfect word for Steve. Not only was he unique in his funny, daring, confident, warm way but he made each of us feel unique in his presence. He focused with love and humor on the person he was with. Steve will be missed.
