“ Curt, Karen and the entire Higdon Family: Please know that I and my family wish to express our most sincere and solemn condolences at this time of your loss. Two weeks ago, on the early morning hours of Ash Wednesday my sister passed away after an extended period of illness and emotional distress. Although she was 69 years old, her life was never the same from the time of the loss of her only 9 year old daughter some 30 years earlier from a childhood disease. One year ago almost to the day of my sister's death, my other brother who was 59 years old also passed away suddenly. My only words that can match my loss is the conviction through my Christian faith that I will be rejoined with them in a greater life despite the loss from this one through ways that passes all human understanding. Lastly, the most meaningful thought is the fact that although my sister had no worldly possessions to pass on, despite her personal pain and suffering, she always finished her time together with people by telling them that she was praying for them and simply asked them to pray for her. In the end, this simple gift is greater than any other I can think of that we can give to each other. So as I pray for Trent and your entire family, may I also ask you to pray for me and mine as well. God Bless and protect you all. guy
